

Apparel RFID & Barcode Labeling Solutions

Data collection, validation, and visibility with variable barcode and RFID hangtags, labels and stickers

Accuracy, speed and quality are mandatory when it comes to making sure your products are on display - on time. Delays due to long ticketing lead times, inaccurate inventory placement, and data negatively affect the bottom line. Partnering with FineLine means trusting the industry's fastest provider of retail tickets, hang tags and labels.

FineLine Solutions

- Standard and custom ticketing formats with various sizes, cuts, colors, and design.
- Integrate your logo, brand and messaging into tickets
- Color for size
- Digital, flexographic, offset, laser, and thermal presses
- Print at locations close to your factories – with 8 production facilities worldwide
- Different types of materials, coated/uncoated, with varying thickness
- RFID hang tags, labels, and stickers

FineLine Advantage

We specialize in 36 hours production turnaround times, accurate data and high quality barcode and RFID products. When ticketing is made part of the retailers' supply chain function and strategy, many retailers have opted to apply tickets directly to merchandise-at the source. Using RFID integrated tickets is particularly effective for tagging. RFID tickets can store more data and help to streamline inventory management at front and back of store, as well as omni-channel practices.

Why FineLine

- FineLine works with 50,000+ vendors world wide ordering tickets for 350+ retailers, and has established and maintained a reputation of quality service within the ticketing ecosystem.
- Production time – average 36 hours – is consistent, regardless of the print facility. Same day and next day prioritization available.
- Strategically located production hubs for product consistency and delivery to vendors within an average of 5 days.
- Team of dedicated customer service specialists assigned to each account, empowered to provide same-day problem resolution.
- Order placement via FASTtrak, our web portal provides fast, easy, accurate order placement and on-demand visibility to PO data, order status, and analytics.
